

As North America's largest aboveground storage tank repair and maintenance contractor for over 35 years, Matrix Service offers the full spectrum of turnkey services with your key priorities in mind: safely reducing costs, improving efficiencies, raising the standard of quality and increasing productivity.

Services are often executed through alliance arrangements to provide our clients with a single source for all their tank repair and maintenance needs. We have made countless replacements/repairs to tank bottoms, shells, nozzles, roof structures, steel floating roofs, seals and man ways for tanks of all sizes. In addition, we provide environmentally friendly solutions for secondary containment and leak detection.
